Apprenticeships

Apprenticeships offer the chance to earn a wage whilst learning. You will mainly train in the work place, but will also attend college or a specialist training provider as part of your apprenticeship framework.

Apprentices are entitled to the apprentice rate if they're either:

- aged under 19
- aged 19 or over and in the first year of their apprenticeship

The current apprentice rate is £3.50 per hour, it should be noted that quite a few employers pay above this hourly rate.

Further details around the national minimum hourly rate and the national living wage can be found at <https://www.gov.uk/national-minimum-wage-rates>.

Apprenticeships are now available in most industries:

- Agriculture, Horticulture and Animal care.
- Arts, Media and Publishing.
- Business, Administration and Law.
- Construction, Planning and The Built Environment.
- Education & Training.
- Engineering & Manufacturing Technologies.
- Health, Public Services and Care.
- Information and Communication Technology.
- Leisure and Travel & Tourism.
- Retail and Commercial Enterprise.

Further details of all the apprenticeships offered in these industries can be found at www.gov.uk/topic/further-education-skills/apprenticeships#types-of-apprenticeships.

Levels of apprenticeships:

Apprenticeship Name	Level	Equivalent educational level
Intermediate	2	5 GCSE passes at grades A* to C
Advanced	3	2 A level passes
Higher	4,5,6 and 7	Foundation degree and above
Degree	6 and 7	Bachelor's or master's degree

Entry requirements vary, but for Intermediate and Advanced Apprenticeships most employers look for GCSE 4 to 9 grades in at least English, maths and for some jobs a science or technology subject. For Higher and Degree Apprenticeships most employers look for A level's or equivalent qualifications (BTEC Level 3 Extended Diploma and/or Foundation Degree, HNC, HND). It is important to look at each apprenticeships entry requirements.

You will need to be well prepared for an apprenticeship. You should do some research on the company or companies; look at the different roles on offer and think about which one(s) interest you the most. Remember you will be competing against other people for the apprenticeship. Ideally you should also try and do some work experience or take part in something that allows you to demonstrate you have the skills for that job (for example being the finance director for your Year 11 business enterprise challenge or being the team leader on your Duke of Edinburgh Expedition). Doing some preparation will help you confirm your interest in the apprenticeship area and also prepare you for when you get invited for an interview.

How to find an apprenticeship Option 1:

To look for national and local apprenticeship vacancies go to the apprenticeship website:

www.gov.uk/apply-apprenticeship.

Most employers are now encouraged to advertise their apprenticeship vacancies on this Government Site but not all do.

How to find an apprenticeship Option 2:

Local and National Training Providers, Colleges and Employers who offer Apprenticeship Opportunities

Note: Please remember with some of the training providers and colleges, you will be required to find your own employer. Be sure to ask how the training provider or college will work with you and support you in finding an employer.

How to find an apprenticeship Option 3: Finding an employer yourself

Look on the yellow pages online at <https://www.yell.com/>
Search for the types of company you would like to work for and where.

A list will appear detailing their address, phone and web site details which you can add to a short list and print out as well as look up on a map.

Look on the company websites to see if they have any suitable jobs or apprenticeship vacancies. Apply if interested.

A lot of companies nowadays like you to apply online using their company website. If there are no suitable vacancies, but you are still interested in that company, contact them via email, post or in person with your CV and a covering letter asking about suitable opportunities.

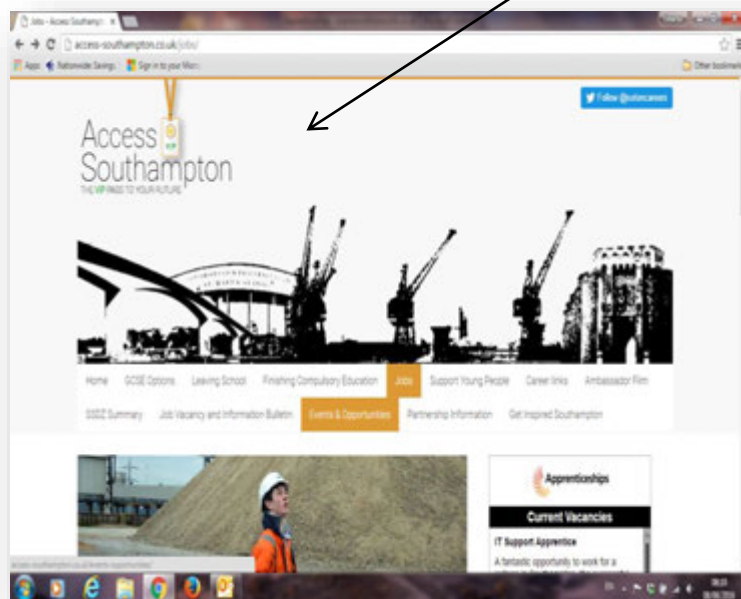

General hints & tips

- Make sure your CV is up to date and get it checked by several people for mistakes. If you email a CV & covering letter don't use a silly email address e.g. judeyjooyay@hotmail.com, be professional.
- When handing in your CV & covering letter in person, dress smartly just in case the manager is available to see you straight away. Make a good first impression.
- Apply for as many things as you can and then accept the best offer.
- Tell your friends and family what sort of job or apprenticeship you hope to get and they can help you look.
- Practise your interview technique before the real thing.
- Ask for help from a careers adviser, teacher or parent if you need help completing an application form.
- No idea what sort of apprenticeship or job you want— BOOK A CAREERS INTERVIEW NOW!

How to find an apprenticeship Option 4:

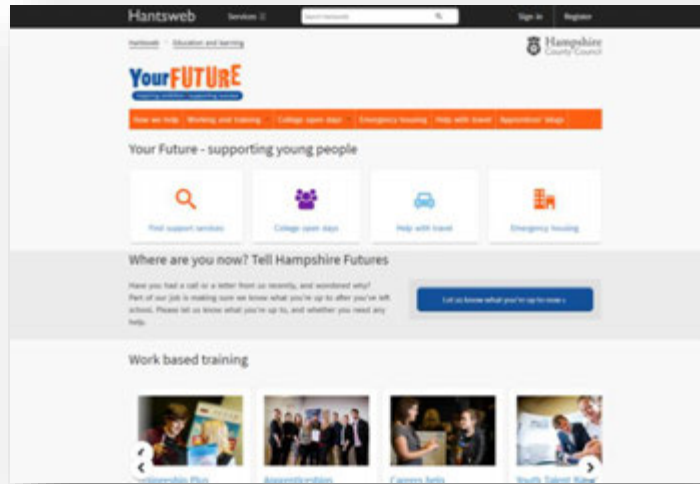

Local Authority Websites

Southampton City Council - www.access-southampton.co.uk/jobs

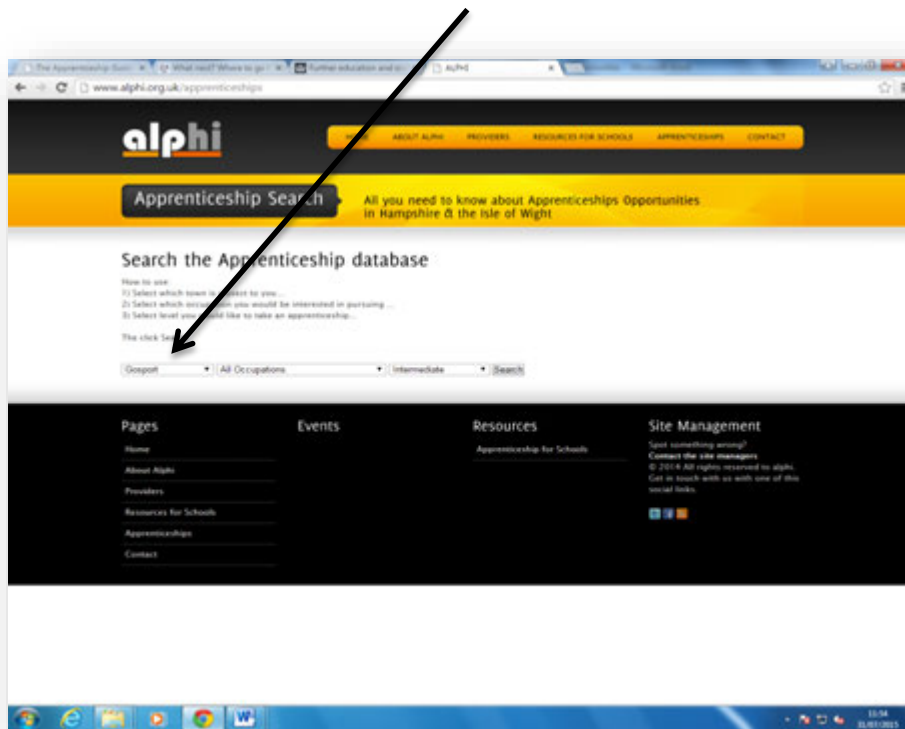

Hampshire County Council

<https://www.hants.gov.uk/educationandlearning/yourfuture>

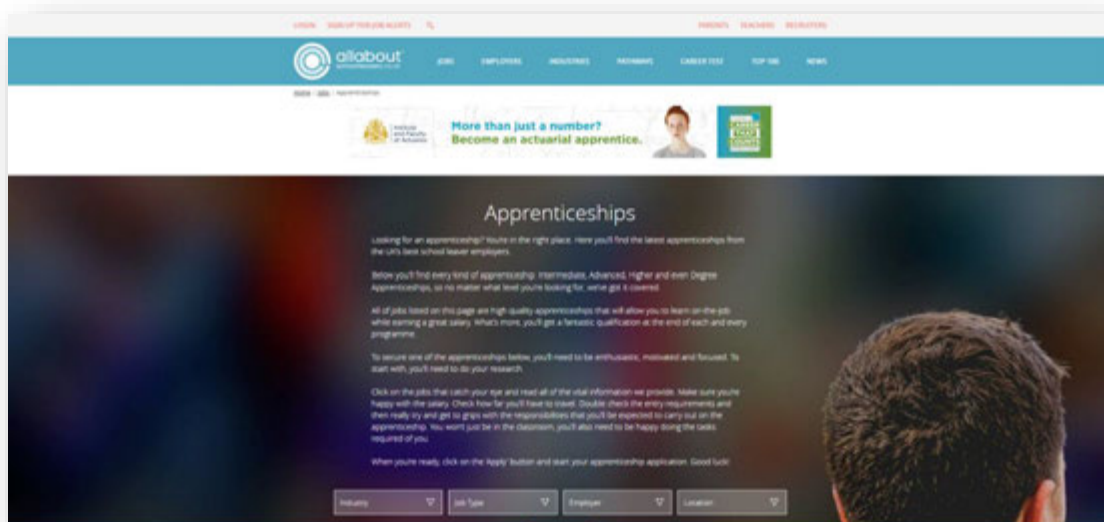

Other recommended websites:

<http://www.alphi.org.uk/apprenticeships>

<https://www.allaboutschoollavers.co.uk/jobs>

You can also use local newspapers, job search websites, vacancy bulletins and industry specific publications. Most job vacancies come out on a Thursday.

If you feel you are not ready for an apprenticeship then another alternative to think about is

Traineeships

What is a Traineeship?

A Traineeship is an education and training programme with work experience that is focused on giving you the skills and experience that employers are looking for. At its core are work preparation training, English and Maths for those who need it, and a high quality work experience placement.

To check whether you are eligible and whether a Traineeship is the correct route for you talk to your school careers adviser or visit the Gov.uk website

<https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/traineeships-programme>

Note: Many of the training providers on Pages 4 to 9 of this guide also offer traineeships; please visit their websites for details.
